A MESSAGE FROM LOWELL MILKEN

Education is at the heart of nearly everything we value as individuals, as citizens and as productive human beings. This philosophy has been the driving force in my work in K-12 education since 1982. Essential to this pursuit is the development and support of a respected and effective teaching profession.

As a nation, we depend on teachers and principals to produce students and graduates who are not only literate, numerate, and conversant in the humanities and sciences, but who are also creative, motivated, and confident. As a society, we seek to nurture young people who are able and willing to think independently and act with integrity, confidence, and compassion. The talented educator is a sure and steady guide who advances young people securely and ably in learning and life.

Education's role as the most important of all professions is a message that the public needs to hear. It is also a message that educators need to hear as they strive to maintain high expectations, provide quality instruction, and offer emotional support regardless of the many challenges in America's K-12 system today.

Now for whether a school is urban, suburban, or rural—whether it represents the affluent or those in need—within the course of a school day, nothing has more impact on student learning than the effectiveness of the teacher in the classroom.

When I created the Milken Educator Awards, my goal was to celebrate, honor and recognize educators who go about their work every day to advance students and fellow educators. Individuals who epitomize achievement in their career to date and have the potential to make even more profound contributions moving forward. Since presenting our first Awards to one dozen exemplary California educators in 1987, we have seen how focusing the spotlight on such excellence inspires not only educators, but also students and communities to new heights of commitment and expectation.

This 2025-26 season, we celebrate a Milken Educator Network of more than 3,000 dedicated and deserving professionals who are shaping the future of education. With each new class of Milken Educators, we are reminded that the power and promise of education must be replenished from generation to generation. In a complex and changing world, the watchwords of the Milken Educator Awards set in place four decades ago still ring true:

The future belongs to the educated!

THE MILKEN EDUCATOR AWARDS

TOUCHING MINDS AND HEARTS

Since 1987, more than two million students have experienced that special day when an educator is surprised with a $25,000 Award, hailed as a celebrity, and showered with attention from their school and community.

The Milken Educator Awards have no formal nomination or application process. Candidates are sourced through a confidential selection process and then reviewed by blue ribbon panels appointed by state departments of education. Those most exceptional are recommended for the Award, with final approval by the Milken Family Foundation.

The surprise announcements are made before cheering students, respected colleagues, distinguished officials, the media—and a stunned new Milken Educator. In a moment's time, these unsung heroes gain a significant, unrestricted financial prize of $25,000 and experience the unfamiliar but well-deserved acclaim and acknowledgment.

Media magnifies the message of the pivotal role that talented educators play in student achievement. Stories across news and social media herald the inspiration and contributions of these newly discovered role models in education. These stories catch the attention of communities young and old, voters and policymakers alike.

At schools across Indiana and our nation, teachers are changing lives ... whether they're teaching our youngest students foundational literacy and math skills or helping older students blaze a seamless pathway to their future goals and dreams. It is an honor to work alongside the Milken Family Foundation to celebrate these incredible educators and positively impact their lives, as they do for students."

HELPING TEACHERS AND STUDENTS REACH THEIR POTENTIAL

“Milken Educators point to their Award as a pivotal professional milestone. After traveling the country for over 25 years and visiting every state with the honor to meet with Milken Educators in network meetings where we share professional updates since the Award, the most frequent start to the discussion is, ‘It all started with Milken.’

The validation and confidence that accompanies the Award truly unleashes educator leadership. The ongoing connection to additional resources and networks opens an ever-expanding window to opportunities, support, and a path in education to improve professional practices and grow as a leader at and beyond the school level.

As a 1994 recipient from Indiana, I know firsthand that any gathering of Milken Educators is guaranteed to be overflowing with positivity, professional excellence and camaraderie, and solutions. This unique energy and laser focus on students never fails to remind us of the essential value and importance of our work and why we chose to be educators: to be the catalyst and guide that helps all students reach their potential.”

GOALS

Outstanding educators who continue to learn are essential to the fostering of student growth, the improvement of schools and the enhancement of the education profession. Hence, the goals of the Milken Educator Awards are to:

- * Honor and reward outstanding K-12 educators who represent the top 1% of the teaching profession for the quality of their teaching, their professional leadership, their engagement with families and the community and their potential for even greater contributions to the personal and academic development of children. Thus, the Award provides a lifetime incentive for the individuals to stay in the profession.
- * Focus public attention on the good news and results in education.
- * By spotlighting the importance of exceptional educators, encourage talented people to enter the teaching profession.

CRITERIA

The criteria for the selection of outstanding elementary and secondary teachers, principals and specialists as Milken Educators include all of the following:

- * Exceptional educational talent as evidenced by effective and innovative instructional practices and student learning results in the classroom and school.
- * Exemplary educational accomplishments and leadership beyond the classroom that provide models of excellence for the profession.
- * Individuals whose contributions to education are largely unheralded yet worthy of the spotlight.
- * Early- to mid-career educators who offer strong, long-range potential for professional and policy leadership.
- * Engaging and inspiring presence that motivates and impacts students, colleagues and the community.

I just started my seventh year of teaching when I received this awesome, unexpected and life-changing Award. My first response was, ‘They must think I’m doing something really great, so I’d better get started.’ I used the Award money to earn my master’s degree, which launched my career into administration. Many doors opened because of my association with the Milken Family Foundation, and I have had an amazing journey.”

MILKEN EDUCATOR AWARDS FORUM

A professional highlight of receiving the Milken Educator Award is joining forces to bring the mission of “Celebrate, Elevate, Activate” into action. The newest class meets and becomes inspired by fellow Award recipients as well as veteran Milken Educators whose accomplishments continue to impress. Recipients share experiences, techniques and accomplishments while developing bonds that last a lifetime.

During sessions with leaders in education, Milken Educators learn how to cultivate their impact beyond the classroom and to advance educational excellence at state and national levels. Most importantly, the Forum helps Milken Educators articulate their passions and develop their voice into roles that lead to real change.

MILKEN EDUCATOR NETWORK

CULTIVATING EFFECTIVE LEADERSHIP AND EDUCATION REFORM

The Milken Educator Award’s visibility and reputation result in unlimited opportunities for educators to improve education from local to international levels. New recipients join the Milken Educator Network, a group of more than 3,000 distinguished professionals whose expertise serves as a valuable resource to fellow educators, legislators, school boards and others shaping the future of education.

The Milken Educator Network fosters effective leadership and education reform through its state and national engagement. Network meetings, discussion forums, national gatherings and other experiences promote collegiality and enhance communication among education stakeholders. This Network serves as an invaluable link as Milken Educators across America come together for professional development and moral support with dozens of Zoominars as well as one-on-one mentoring. The robust MEA Connections online magazine features stories, strategies and discussions both professional and personal that reinforce Solutions and Hope for Milken Educators as they implement opportunities for the future.

This country was founded on the principle of the American Dream. No one’s promised it or guaranteed it—you get it by working hard. And effective teachers teach much more than what is in their curriculum.

They teach a work ethic and what it means to be an American, what it means to be a member of the world.”

ACROSS THE COUNTRY, MILKEN EDUCATORS ...

CELEBRATE

HAWAII MILKEN EDUCATORS

Aloha State Award recipients from years past travel from the neighboring islands to take part in the surprise notifications. Their collective support sheds light on the professional possibilities awaiting the newest members of the Milken Educator family. A special highlight is an annual event to honor the new recipient and present mini-grants to early-career teachers. The Hawaii Network is fully invested in celebrating educational excellence in the Aloha State while elevating the teaching profession.

ELEVATE

TEACHERS OF PROMISE FOUNDATION, VIRGINIA

The Teachers of Promise (TOP) Foundation was established by Wade Whitehead (VA '00) to celebrate, elevate and activate the best future teachers across America. The Foundation's flagship initiative is the Teachers of Promise Institute, which was launched in 2004 by the Virginia Milken Educator Network. The Institute (www.teachersofpromise.com) honors future teachers from college and university schools of education through a two-day experience that celebrates the decision to teach, elevates the teaching profession, and activates a network of excellence in classrooms and schools. Wade Whitehead (VA '00), Stephanie Bishop (VA '01) and Laura Marshall (VA '08) serve as co-directors.

The TOP Foundation's other programs include the Smoky Mountain Teachers of Promise Summit—which honors attendees from Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina and Tennessee—and the Maryland Teachers of Promise Institute.

To date, more than 4,000 Teachers of Promise have been identified and recognized. These alumni include State Teachers of the Year, National Board Certified Teachers, and Milken Educator Ryan Sykes (VA '19). More than 125 expert educators from across the nation, including over 75 Milken Educators, have served as mentors and presenters.

Amazing classroom teachers are our last, best hope for navigating the true potential waiting in our schools. That's why we are finding and honoring the next generation of great teachers so that we can imagine and advance a new understanding of what it takes to reach every learner, in every classroom, every day."

ACTIVATE

MILKEN FRIENDS FOREVER (MFF)

Milken Educators know instantly that the Award is an honor. It is also a responsibility with opportunities and expectations to grow as a leader in the profession. Recipients are challenged to be teacher leaders—role models who use their example, voice and influence in schools and diverse settings far beyond their campus. But they are not left on their own to meet these expectations.

Both new and veteran Milken Educators are invited to participate in a one-of-a-kind partnership between the two called Milken Friends Forever (MFF). Through focused communication, along with personalized support and coaching, veteran Milken Educators assist their MFFs in determining how, when and where they will “Elevate” to improve their own instructional practices and “Activate” to explore, prepare and serve in leadership roles that influence practice and policy of others.

MFFs become thought partners with common qualities of passion, excellence and drive. They connect through monthly calls and Zoom meetings to determine priorities, set goals, outline strategies and set timelines. Deep professional relationships provide an atmosphere of trust to discuss professional activities, offer feedback, share areas of expertise, and build bridges among their nationally recognized colleagues within the vast Milken Educator Network.

What has transpired is that Milken Educators are growing and leading at an exponential rate. By impacting teachers and students across our nation, they strengthen the legacy of our motto: “The future belongs to the educated.”

“Instead of the typical mentor-mentee model that assumes the mentor is the sage, Milken Friends Forever recognizes the rewards the veteran Milken Educator receives from being paired with a new Milken Educator. It is such a gift to have relationships with other incredible educators across the country ... especially when we have opportunities to reimagine education together.”

EXPANDING MFF RESOURCE AND EXPLORER PROGRAM

Whether early or seasoned in their careers, Milken Educators are lifelong learners. The Expanding MFF Resource and Explorer Program hones in on a specific topic to “Elevate” their practices or assume leadership roles to “Activate” practice and policy more broadly.

Open to Milken Educators in their second year and beyond, the program connects an “Explorer MFF” who is looking for guidance in an area of interest to a “Resource MFF” who has deep experience in that area. Currently 139 Milken Educators of diverse backgrounds, geographical areas, school settings and disciplines volunteer their time as Resource MFFs. Some connections enhance technical skills, such as in STEM/STEAM, English Language Learner instruction, education technology, and grant application. Others offer practical advice on advancing in the profession, including becoming an administrator, instructional coach or district leader; serving in professional organizations; or obtaining an advanced degree.

The program is flexible and customized to educators’ needs, which evolve over time. Some matches are short-term while others may extend longer to allow for deeper discussions and action plans. All share a common purpose of strengthening the impact of Milken Educators on students, colleagues and communities.

ACTIVATING MILKEN EDUCATORS (AME)

Individually, Milken Educators are exemplary. Activating Milken Educators (AME) capitalizes on the force of what Milken Educators can accomplish together.

AME promotes collaboration among Milken Educators to target topics intended to attract, retain, motivate and develop teacher effectiveness in their states by designing programs and solutions aligned to “Celebrate, Elevate, Activate.”

As of fall 2025, 23 Milken Educator Networks—Alabama, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, West Virginia, and Wyoming—have created and sustained initiatives to tackle the teacher shortage and promote teacher leadership. Network planning meetings focus on developing a strong purpose for projects shaped to the needs of states. Projects have relevance to Milken Educators and the Milken Educator Network as a whole. MEA consistently advances AME to Milken Educators across America.

When Milken Educators unite, the power of the pin is magnified. AME provides the structure for newer and veteran Milken Educators to collectively strategize and plan initiatives to elevate education in their states.”

MILKEN MEETUP

Inspired by the unexpected gift of attending the same professional learning opportunity, Milken Award recipients Jennifer Fuller (TX '17), Dr. Nader Twal (CA '03) and Aubrey Flowers (OK '21) considered the potential of an organized and intentional "Milken MeetUp" to forge new relationships and connections with Milken Educator peers. A Milken MeetUp offers Milken Educators the invaluable opportunity to connect with Milken Educators from across the country to reflect, debrief, and process the information gained while attending a professional learning conference. It also leverages the potential of networking with fellow Milken Award recipients to consider and apply innovative practices. Milken Educators post pictures on social media of Milken MeetUps across the nation to celebrate the personal and professional connections.

Milken Educators embody extraordinary beacons of hope in education. Every time I stand among these champions of learning, I am uplifted, ignited, and deeply inspired to serve teachers and students with greater purpose and passion.”

MCAAD HIGHLIGHTS MILKEN EDUCATORS FOR THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS TO REALIZING HUMAN POTENTIAL

EDUCATION AND THE EDUCATOR

MCAAD's programming for schools, educators, and community groups offers guided tours, hands-on workshops, and a flexible toolkit of resources—all thoughtfully designed to spark curiosity, foster real-world learning, and inspire purpose in learners of all backgrounds.

An exciting feature at MCAAD, in the Education and the Educator space on the fifth floor, is the Roadmap to Achieving Your American Dream. The Roadmap has two common threads: first, in every endeavor people—human capital—make the difference. Second, education in many forms is the foundation toward reaching our goals. The exhibit includes over 50 display panels organized into six interconnected themes. These themes explore the powerful relationship between human potential and education through compelling stories, examples of successful education initiatives, videos, photos, quotes, activities and data. Visitors are challenged to reflect as they experience the Roadmap and think about actions they can take to change the world around them.

Filled with a 44-foot-long data wall, commissioned artwork, and quotes about the American Dream, the Hall of Dreams is the perfect place to seek inspiration and knowledge. Visitors can submit their own word that defines their own aspirations to the Word Cloud and watch it appear in real time.

UNsung HERO (NOUN):

An individual, largely unrecognized by society, who took extraordinary actions to improve the lives of others, and made a profound and positive impact on the course of history.

The Lowell Milken Center for Unsung Heroes (LMC) transforms classrooms and communities through student-driven projects that discover Unsung Heroes from history—individuals who changed the world through their courage and compassion, yet are not found in history books. Established in 2007 as a partnership between Lowell Milken and 1992 Kansas Milken Educator and history teacher Norm Conard, LMC's unique project-based learning approach integrates research, critical thinking and creativity for students and educators across diverse cultures and academic disciplines.

LMC has reached over three million students worldwide via its online projects, educator resources and student competitions. The Fort Scott, Kansas, headquarters has welcomed visitors from all 50 states and from countries around the world. The Hall of Unsung Heroes museum was added in 2016, featuring an inspirational, high-tech space with interactive exhibits and expanded research opportunities. In 2022, LMC celebrated the grand opening of its Unsung Heroes Park, a vibrant community gathering space for programs and activities.

LMC is an initiative of the Lowell Milken Family Foundation.

Real heroes tower and guide. They are the North Star that today's youth can look up to. But their stories need to be discovered and heard. That is the purpose of the Center for Unsung Heroes."

STEADFAST LEADER FOR LIBERTY

The Harry Hue Project

Unknown Colonel "Don" Hue of the 1st Infantry Division, Republic of Vietnam, fought alongside U.S. Army and the U.S. Marines during the Vietnam War, saving numerous South Vietnamese and American lives.

Since 2010, a series of military leaders, Harry witnessed brutal injustices in the past of our General before and French occupies in Vietnam and visited Vietnam to bring peace light for self-determination. A leader in the Army of the Republic of Vietnam, the peak of Harry's military career came during the 1968 Tet Offensive, during which his unit took the lead in a month-long battle to capture the strategically key city of Hue.

In 1975, while awaiting for enemy soldiers, Harry was taken prisoner by enemy forces. He was held in a prison camp of war, the North Vietnamese tried relentlessly to force Harry down, but he refused to give in despite being forced to live under terrible conditions.

"My physical body became weaker and weaker every day, but my spirit was strong because when I judged myself I knew I did the right thing to protect my people and keep my country out of the arms of the invaders."

—Colonel "Don" Harry Hue
on his time as a POW

After being liberated, Harry was brought to America through the efforts of one of the U.S. Army advisors who had fought alongside him. As an immigrant, he has shown unwavering loyalty to his adopted country, advising the U.S. military on how to conduct relationships with foreign allies and collaborate against terrorist activities. For his courageous actions as a leader in the Vietnam War, Harry is the only foreign soldier to have received the Silver Star Medal, the highest award for heroism on the battlefield that the American military can grant an allied soldier.

DISCOVERY AWARD

Uncovering and then sharing the impact of an Unsung Hero takes resourcefulness, determination and passion on the part of students. In the process, young people learn invaluable research, communication and life skills. LMC's Discovery Award offers thousands in financial prizes to students in grades 4-12 who produce compelling Unsung Hero Projects. Entries can take the form of a documentary film, performance or website, and must include a process paper.

If I could sum up my experience into one word, it would be: inspiring. But even that does not begin to cover how inspiring this journey has been. It made me realize there are so many people in the world who have done amazing work, but we never hear about them. That is what makes these projects so special. It takes a person out of the shadows and into the sunlight. It's an incredible feeling when you know you brought their story to the lives of others."

ARTEFFECT

DISCOVER THE POWER TO CREATE POSITIVE CHANGE THROUGH ART

ARTEFFECT is an expanding visual arts education initiative that invites educators and their students to explore the inspiring and diverse stories of the LMC Unsung Heroes and their invaluable lessons as role models through the visual arts. ARTEFFECT offers annual student art competitions, professional development and exhibitions. These offerings aim to amplify the voices of students, engage educators, and inspire others through the LMC Unsung Heroes—guided by Founder Lowell Milken’s vision that “one individual has the power to make a positive and profound difference in the lives of others.”

Since Lowell Milken founded ARTEFFECT in 2016, thousands of young artists from around the world have participated in the ARTEFFECT annual student art competition. Young artists in grades 6-12 consider, interpret and create original artworks and write reflective impact statements that champion the LMC Unsung Heroes as role models. Various 2D and 3D mediums are eligible. These young artists explore the power of their own artmaking by showcasing their completed projects beyond the classroom walls to stimulate positive community impact and social action. # ARTEFFECT AMBASSADORS PROGRAM

Launched in 2023, the ARTEFFECT Ambassadors Program brings together an annual cohort of outstanding middle and high school educators for an online fellowship to foster teaching and learning through the visual arts. Educators learn alongside other high-level practitioners through visual-arts-focused, project-based activities and hone their instructional practices. Throughout the school year, Ambassadors engage in online modules with visual art lesson plans focused on the LMC Unsung Heroes. The fellowship provides a stipend and materials fee, official recognition, and a certificate. The fellowship culminates with learner-centered capstone projects that Ambassadors develop and implement to engage their classrooms and communities.

This Ambassadors fellowship has been a journey of discovery, growth, and collaboration. From the remarkable modules to the final presentations and community exhibition, each aspect of this experience has contributed to my professional development and strengthened my commitment to fostering meaningful connections between education and the broader community.

I learned so much throughout this school year by attending the modules; I was able to enhance my processes, exercises, and activities to ultimately increase student engagement. All of the lesson plans were broken down into meaningful exercises that could be used for many different visual art classes.

Completing this Ambassadors fellowship has been a transformative journey, rich with invaluable lessons that have profoundly impacted my professional growth. The series of modules I participated in throughout this program were truly exceptional in their depth and scope.”

ARTEFFECT EXHIBITION AT MCAAD

ARTEFFECT Founder Lowell Milken (right), Executive Director Dr. Toni Guglielmo and Project Manager Connor Walden at the new ARTEFFECT at MCAAD gallery—a permanent space dedicated to showcasing award-winning ARTEFFECT visual arts projects by young artists that celebrate the extraordinary impact of Unsung Heroes on the world.

ARTEFFECT presents Visualizing Impact, its inaugural exhibition on view at the Milken Center for Advancing the American Dream in Washington, D.C. This 3,000-square-foot permanent gallery showcases award-winning ARTEFFECT projects created by young and emerging artists from around the globe.

In this gallery, visual artworks and short films explore Unsung Heroes—role models, largely unrecognized by society, who demonstrated extraordinary, heroic traits and actions in service to others and made a positive and profound impact on the course of history. Their inspiring stories span centuries and diverse disciplines including civil rights, education, innovation, healthcare, STEAM, and wartime history.

Students celebrate Unsung Heroes in projects that illuminate connections between the past, present, and future. These young artists convey the historical significance of their subjects through an array of artistic expressions and reflections. As they investigate Unsung Heroes as role models, students awaken to their own potential and the power of artmaking to stimulate positive change.

The ARTEFFECT exhibition invites visitors to experience the transformative power of visual arts education and to embark on a journey through time through an engaging and interactive experience.

The Milken Scholars Program was founded in 1989 by Lori and Mike Milken to honor exceptional young individuals based on scholarship, leadership, service, character, and triumphs over obstacles. Scholars are graduating high school seniors from New York, Washington, D.C., and Los Angeles County who go through a rigorous nomination and interview process.

Each receives a $10,000 scholarship, but what makes the program unique is the access to a lifetime of resources, including mentorship throughout their college careers and beyond. The three-day Summit with presentations by outstanding leaders from diverse fields allows Scholars to form and renew friendships as they exchange ideas and aspirations.

The Milken Scholars Program is more than a scholarship program—it is a family that has supported me and helped me grow intellectually and professionally since I was a 17-year-old high school senior. As the first person in my family to go to an Ivy League college, it made all the difference to be able to lean on my Milken mentor and fellow Milken Scholars at Harvard for support. The $10,000 scholarship itself was only the beginning of a lifelong relationship that I cannot imagine my life without.”
